“Throughout the fight against oil and gas drilling in the Mason Tract, it has become clear that anglers and Sierra Club's interests overlap in a wide variety of issues—healthy forests produce healthy streams. Now, we can truthfully say that Sierra Club is a friend and one of our most valuable resources.”

-- Rusty Gates (dec.), Founding President, Anglers of the Au Sable from 1987-2009

“Sierra Club's Marvin Roberson is the only person in Michigan's environmental community watch-dogging the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and scrutinizing public lands management and decision-making. His efforts have contributed to positive improvements in the agency's decisions, and helped scuttle several ideas that would have been devastating to the state's forests. Marvin's work is invaluable to Michigan citizens across the state.”

-- James Clift, Policy Director & Lobbyist, Michigan Environmental Council
